Katja Sladitschek wants to make the world a better place – for everyone. As a scientist at Bayer, Katja knows she is doing just that. Searching for solutions and never giving up. That is the passion that unites all of us at Bayer. We call it the Bayer Spirit. If you feel it, too, then it is high time we had a chance to talk about a career at Bayer.

Inhouse Consultant / Project Manager (m / f)

Your tasks The Business Consulting business unit of Bayer Business Services provides inhouse consulting services for the Bayer Group. Business Consulting carries out projects worldwide for Bayer AG and its sub-groups and service companies in the areas of strategy (e.g. implementation of strategies, strategic analyses), organization (e.g. organizational design, integration and hive-down of businesses) and performance optimization at all stages in the value creation chain (e.g. optimization of production, indicator systems). Depending on your experience and qualifications you will immediately be placed in charge of consulting projects or given responsibility for aspects of a project. You will normally manage a team of customers and consultants, either in Germany or abroad, depending where the project is located. You will have direct contact to the management of the units for which the project is being undertaken and will gain a good insight into the Bayer Group. You will be involved in developing and passing on consulting methods and tools and thus help shape the momentum of a growing inhouse consulting organization. Your assignments will be an excellent springboard for a subsequent career in line functions in the Bayer Group. We will provide systematic personnel development to foster your abilities.

Your profile You have already started on your career, probably with an external or in-house management consultancy. You have experience of complex business-related projects and the use of relevant consulting tools and methods, together with proven ability to assume responsibility. You have a very good university degree in economics, science or engineering. Ideally, you have a further qualification (e.g. a PhD or MBA) and/or experience of working abroad. Other central requirements are outstanding analytical, conceptual and implementation skills, initiative, persuasiveness, a strong team spirit and good communication skills. As well as a strong interest in the industries in which the Bayer Group operates, we are looking for proven specialist skills in an area of relevance to the Group and an interest in ongoing personal development in a stimulating environment. You must speak fluent English and be prepared to accept international assignments.

Your application If you are interested in the above position, please apply online, quoting box number 0000012013 and attaching the relevant documents. Please also indicate your salary expectations and the earliest possible date on which you could take up employment under:
